THE LEE·SMITH
Trust

We would like to take this opportunity to thank you for attending this show and we hope that you enjoy your day.

We would like to explain to you how the proceeds for this event will be used; as you may or may not be aware Thai boxing is very much a grass roots sport and as such sponsorship opportunities for fighters to compete can be quite limited, Lee himself competed in Thailand on two separate occasions and was unable to secure funding for his travel and it is due to this reason that the Lee Smith Trust was established by Anne Smith, Jacki Robson and Lorraine Moore.

The Lee Smith Trust aims to support and promote Thai boxing in the North East of England, which includes the counties of Durham, Darlington, Tyne & Wear, Teesside and Northumberland. The Lee Smith Trust will further the education and training of Thai boxing students by the provision of grants and donations to individuals and clubs/associations, and

to make donations to charitable organisations as the committee from time to time think fit.
